223		D	T	String	usfr-pt	BusinessSegmentsNote Business Segments Note (Standard Label) Business Segments (Terse Label) Companies often disclose the reportable segments of their business and how they determined the segments (e.g. by products and services, geography, regulatory environments, etc). For each segment, specific amounts of items are often reported, such as revenue by product/service and external customers, profit or loss, total assets, interest revenue and expense, depreciation and amortization expense, income tax expense, and expenditures on long lived assets. Explanations are often included on differences between each segment, such as 1) certain measurements of segment profit or loss (e.g. income before taxes, extraordinary items, discontinued operations, change in accounting principle) and assets and 2) changes in methods and measurements from prior year, between segment and consolidated assets. Reconciliation is also provided between the total of the segment items disclosed (e.g. revenue, assets, etc) to the consolidated entity. If not disclosed as part of operating segment information, disclose: (a) total revenues from external customers for each product and service, (b) geographic information about revenues from external customers and long-lived assets, and if this is impracticable, that fact shall be disclosed. If revenues from a single external customer are 10 percent or more of total revenues, disclose the total amount of revenues from each such customer and the identity of the segment or segments reporting the revenues. 484	D	T	String		usfr-pt	ContractAccountingNote Contract Accounting Note (Standard Label) Contract Accounting (Terse Label) Contract accounting relates to long-term construction contracts. Disclosure of contract accounting often includes methods used to 1) account for long term construction contracts (e.g. percentage of completion or completed-contract method) and 2) determine earned and cost of revenue. When percentage of completion method is used, disclose the method to measure the progress toward completion. For completed contract method, disclose the specific criteria used to determine when a contract is substantially completed. Other disclosures include: (1) the circumstances in which a contractor using the percentage-of-completion method uses the completed-contract method, or vice versa, to account for certain contracts, (2) any claims in excess of the agreed contract price, (3) any advances offset against cost-type contract receivables. For inventories related to long-term contracts disclose: (a) the principal assumptions used to determine amounts removed from inventory if the estimated average cost per unit method is used, and (b) the total amount of general and administrative costs incurred and the actual (or estimated) amount remaining in inventory if general and administrative costs have been charged to inventory. Also disclose: (a) the total costs (current or deferred) that exceed the total estimated cost of all in-process and delivered units, as well as that portion of such amount that would not be absorbed in cost of sales based on existing firm orders, (b) the amount of deferred costs by type of cost (e.g., initial tooling and deferred production), (c) the total amount representing uncertain claims concerning their determination or ultimate realization and a description of the nature and status of the principal items, and (d) the amount of progress payments netted against inventory. 918	D	T	String		usfr-pt	IncomeTaxesNote Income Taxes Note (Standard Label) Income Taxes (Terse Label) Income taxes' components usually include tax accruals, net deferred tax liability or asset, valuation allowance, and income tax expense. For net deferred tax liability or assets recognized in the balance sheet, disclosures include: the total of all deferred tax liabilities, the total of all deferred tax assets, and the total valuation allowance recognized for deferred tax assets. Other disclosures often include 1) the valuation allowance net change for the year, 2) the amount of income tax expense or benefit allocated to continuing operations, discontinued operations, extraordinary items, the cumulative effect of accounting changes, prior period adjustments, gains and losses included in comprehensive income but excluded from net income, and capital transactions for each year for which those items are presented, 3) the components of income tax expense attributable to continuing operations (e.g. current tax expense or benefit, deferred tax expense, benefits of operating loss carryforward, investment tax credits), 4) types of temporary differences that resulted in deferred tax asset or liability, 5) reconciliation of income tax expense between continuing operations and domestic federal statutory tax rates (public companies only. Private companies only disclose significant reconciling items), 6) expiration dates of loss and tax credit carryforwards and 7) for SEC only, federal, foreign and other income taxes should be stated separately for each major component (current and deferred). For an entity that is part of a group that files a consolidated tax return, disclose the method by which the consolidated amount of current and deferred tax expense is allocated to members of the group and the nature and effect of any changes in that method. Whenever a deferred tax liability is not recognized disclose: (a) a description of the types and amount of temporary differences for which a deferred tax liability has not been recognized and the types of events that would cause those temporary differences to become taxable, (b) the amount of the unrecognized deferred tax liability for temporary differences related to investments in foreign subsidiaries and foreign corporate joint ventures, and (c) the amount of the unrecognized deferred tax liability for temporary differences other than foreign investments. For public enterprises not subject to income taxes disclose that fact and the net difference between the tax bases and the reported amounts of the enterprise's assets and liabilities. For an entity that is part of a group that files a consolidated tax return, disclose the method by which the consolidated amount of current and deferred tax expense is allocated to members of the group and the nature and effect of any changes in that method.	AICPA Statement of Position (SOP) 94-6 (Standard); FASB Current Text (CT) 127 140 (Standard); FASB Current Text (CT) 127 141 (Standard); FASB Current Text (CT) 127 142 (Standard); FASB Current Text (CT) 127 143 (Standard); FASB Current Text (CT) 127 144 (Standard); FASB Current Text (CT) 127 146 (Standard); FASB Current Text (CT) 127 147 (Standard); FASB Current Text (CT) 127 148 (Standard); FASB Emerging Issues Taskforce (EITF) 93-16 (Standard); FASB Statement of Financial Accounting Standard (FAS) 109 http://www.fasb.org/pdf/fas109.pdf 2004-08-01 (Standard); FASB Statement of Financial Accounting Standard (FAS) 5 http://www.fasb.org/pdf/fas5.pdf 2004-08-01 (Standard); SEC Regulation S-X (SX) Rule 4 8 h 1 I http://www.sec.gov/divisions/corpfin/forms/regsx.htm#general 2004-08-01 (Standard)

1026	D	I	T	Monetary	usfr-fst	InterestBearingDepositsBanks Interest Bearing Deposits in Banks (Standard Label) Interest Bearing Deposits in Banks (Terse Label) Interest Bearing deposits are funds deposited with banks for relatively short periods of time (generally less than one year). These deposits are usually made when the maturity of deposit liabilities do not match liquidity requirements. The difference between a deposit and loan is that a deposit is available to everyone with quoted maturities and rates, the maturity is for less than a year, and there is no consideration of credit worthiness of the depository organization. 1212	D	I	T	Monetary	usfr-fst	LoansLoansHeldPortfolioCommercialRealEstate Loans Held in Portfolio - Commercial Real Estate (Standard Label) Commercial Real Estate (Terse Label) Loans made on real property such as office buildings, apartment buildings, shopping centers, industrial property, and hotels are generally referred to as commercial real estate loans. Such loans are usually secured by mortgages or other liens on the related real property. Repayment terms on commercial real estate loans vary considerably. Interest rates may be fixed or variable, and the loans may be structured for full, partial, or no amortization of principal (that is, periodic interest payments are required and the principal is to be paid in full at the loan maturity date). Some give the institution recourse to third parties, who guarantee repayment of all or a portion of the loans. Others are nonrecourse, that is, if the borrower cannot repay the loan, the lender has only the collateral as a source of repayment—the lender does not have recourse to any other source of repayment. The institution generally agrees to a specified loan amount, part of which will be disbursed to the borrower at the inception of the project and part of which will be disbursed as construction progresses, based on specified milestones that were agreed to by the institution and the borrower. Construction loans are generally made for the construction period only, which generally runs from one to seven years. Often, both interest and principal are payable at maturity. After construction is completed, the borrower usually obtains long-term mortgage financing from another financial institution. Commonly, such loans are made to finance purchases of consumer goods, such as automobiles, boats, household goods, vacations, and education. Interest rates and terms vary considerably depending on many factors, including whether the loan is secured or unsecured. The two most significant kinds of consumer lending are installment loans and revolving credit arrangements (credit-card lending). 1219	D	I	T	Monetary	usfr-fst	LoansLoansHeldPortfolioTradeFinancing Loans Held in Portfolio - Trade Financing (Standard Label) Trade Financing (Terse Label) Trade financing is a specialized area of commercial lending frequently used by businesses that engage in international activities. Such financing includes open account financing, sales on consignment, documentary collections, advances against collections, letters of credit, bankers' acceptances, factoring, and forfeiting. Banks and savings institutions charge fees for such arrangements. The most commonly used of these arrangements is the letter of credit. The two primary types of letters of credit are the commercial letter of credit and the standby letter of credit. A commercial letter of credit represents a commitment by a bank or savings institution (the issuing institution) to make payment for a specified buyer (the importer) to a specified seller (the exporter) in accordance with terms stated in the letter of credit. Under a standby letter of credit, the issuing institution guarantees that the buyer will make payment. The issuing institution is not ordinarily expected to make payment; however, if it does make payment, the buyer is obligated under the agreement to repay the institution. Standby letters of credit are also used to guarantee the performance of U.S. companies under contracts with foreign corporations and foreign or domestic governments. Depending on the nature of the agreement, these transactions may involve a high degree of credit risk.

Disclosure requirements for defined benefit plans are divided into three sections: public entity disclosures, non-public entity disclosures, and disclosures applicable to all entities. Public entity disclosures for defined benefit pension and postretirement benefit plans often include: 1) a reconciliation of beginning and ending balances of the benefit obligation for all balance sheets presented, 2) the effects on benefit obligation during the period attributable to certain elements (e.g. service and interest costs, contributions by plan participants, actuarial gains and losses, foreign currency exchange rate changes, and benefits paid, 3) a reconciliation of beginning and ending balances of the fair value of plan assets for all balance sheets presented, 4) the effects on pension assets during the period attributable to certain elements (e.g. actual return on plan assets, foreign currency exchange rates change, contributions by employer and participants, and benefits paid), 5) net periodic benefit cost recognized as expense by components (e.g. service and interest costs, expected return of plan assets, amortization of unrecognized transition obligation or asset, recognized gain or loss, prior service cost, gain or loss due to settlement or curtailment), 6) the funded status of the plan, 7) amounts recognized and not recognized (e.g. prior service cost, gain or loss) in the balance sheet, and 8) the effect of a one-percentage-point increase and decrease in the assumed health care cost trend rate(s). Nonpublic entity disclosures for defined benefit pension and postretirement benefit plans often includes: the benefit obligation, the fair value of plan assets, the funded status of the plan, employer contributions, participant contributions, benefits paid, net periodic benefit expense and the amounts recognized in the balance sheet (e.g. net pension asset or other postretirement benefit prepaid assets or accrued liabilities, intangible asset recognized (pension plans only), and the amount of accumulated other comprehensive income recognized (pension plans only) and effect of significant nonroutine events, such as amendments, combinations, divestitures, curtailments, and settlements. Disclosures applicable to all entities for benefit pension and postretirement benefit plans include: 1) other comprehensive income from a change in the minimum pension liability recognized, 2) the weighted-average assumed discount rate, the weighted-average rate of compensation increase, and the weighted-average expected long-term rate of return on plan assets, 3) the assumed health care cost trend rate(s) for the next year used to measure the expected cost of benefits and its pattern of change, and 4) the amounts and types of securities of the employer and related parties included in plan assets, For Defined Contribution Plans, disclosures include: the nature and effect of significant matters affecting comparability of information for all periods and the amount of cost recognized as expense during the period. For Multiemployer Plans, additional disclosures include: if it is either probably or reasonably possible that 1) an employer would withdraw from a multiemployer plan resulting in an obligation, and 2) an employer's contribution to a multiemployer plan would be increased to maintain a level of benefit coverage (OPEB only).
